

FIVE LITTLE TURKEYS

By Dianne de Las Casas

© Copyright 2008 The Story Connection

Five little turkeys having some fun (snap fingers and dance)

The first one says, “Thanksgiving’s begun!” (Hold up pointer finger to make number one. Open arms and make a surprised face.)

The second one says, “Let’s hide far away.” (Hold up two fingers. Cover face with hands.)

The third one says, “But I want to play!” (Hold up three fingers. Make an American sign language Y [extend pinky and thumb with the fingers between folded down] with both hands and wiggle around)

The fourth one says, “The hunter is coming!” (Hold up four fingers. Place both hands on face and look shocked)

The fifth one says, “We better start running!” (Hold up five fingers. Make a running motion.)

“Yum!” says the hunter (Rub tummy with hand in circular motion.)

Ready for a bite (Make biting motion and sound with mouth.)

But five little turkeys waddle out of sight (Wiggle hips and flap folded arms.)

